

11:45–1:15

Considerations on the Tuchins' Revolt: Can We Speak of a Peasants' Revolt?

Vincent Challet (Université Paul-Valéry – Montpellier 3)

When is a Riot not a Riot? Risings of the Commons in English Towns

Christian Liddy (University of Durham)

1:15-2:30: Lunch

2:30–5:00: Closing discussion

Medieval Revolts in Comparative Perspective
A Workshop

St Andrews
19–20 April 2013

Made possible by the support of
St Andrews School of History
St Andrews Institute for Mediaeval Studies

Friday, 19 April

9:15–9:45: Coffee and registration (the Undercroft)

9:45–10:00

Welcome and Introduction (Old Class Library)

10:00–11:30:

The Lessons of 1381

Andrew Prescott (Kings College London)

Comparing the Logic of Revolt in Italian and Near Eastern Cities

Patrick Lantschner (University of Oxford)

11:30–11:45: Coffee

11:45–1:00

1469-71 in England: 'Popular Revolts' or 'Wars of the Roses'?

John Watts (University of Oxford) and Eliza Hartrich (University of Oxford)

1:00-2:30: Lunch (the Undercroft)

2:30-4:00:

Leuven, 1378: Gathering and Petitioning for the Common Good

Jelle Haemers (KU Leuven)

Social Revolt and Political Representation in Sciacca in the Fifteenth Century

Fabrizio Titone (University of the Basque Country)

4:00-5:30:

Guild Politics and Political Guilds in Fourteenth-Century Flanders

Jan Dumolyn (Universiteit Gent)

The Dynamics of Popular Revolt and Factional Competition in a Late-Medieval City: Utrecht (Northern Netherlands)

Justine Smithuis (Universiteit Leiden)

Saturday, 20 April

10:00-11:30:

On Sheep and Wolves: Exploring Anti-noble Revolts on the Eve of the Comunidades Uprising

Rafael Oliva Herrer (Universidad de Sevilla)

Rebellion or Bauernfehde? Distinguishing between War and Revolt in Fourteenth-Century France

Justine Firnhaber-Baker (University of St Andrews)

11:30–11:45: Coffee (the Undercroft)